BACKGROUND & SITE INFORMATION

In 2015, Huntsville celebrated the launch of Jim Marek Park, built in memory of one of Merrimack Mill Village's biggest champions. The park, named after James J. "Jim" Marek, Jr., has a playground, pavilion, bench-lined sidewalk, bike rack, picnic tables, and a lawn for residents and families to enjoy off Triana Boulevard at the intersection of Clopton Street and Cedar Avenue in Huntsville. Huntsville's Jim Marek Park was designed with input from Merrimack and Holiday Homes community members.

It is located at 3402 Clopton St SW, Huntsville, AL 35805. Jim Marek Park is one of over 65 parks/greenspaces in Huntsville. The grounds are divided into two areas, half being the playground and the other being an open field with grass. A pavilion with picnic tables is located right in the middle. The park is 1 acre.

Proposals may be submitted for up to $25,000. The artist award will include all expenses, including the cost of a 16 square foot pad (if required for installation). If a proposal involves a method other than concrete for the art installation, please specify this in the proposal narrative, drawings, and budget. Selected artist will create artwork to be located within the parks greenspace. Proposals will be considered for any area of the park, but a location on the west edge of the park is preferred.

Candidates may propose artwork placement anywhere within Marek Park's greenspace, but are encouraged to consider proposing placement somewhere within the illustrated area above.
